SIXTY ELKS MAKE START FOR WAILUKU

One Man Shanghaied By Fellow Members And Had To Go

The happiest crowd that ever left Honolulu sailed with Captain Parker on the Claudine last night for Wailuku. When the expression "happiest crowd" is used it can only mean one organization in the city—the Elks, who are always ready for a good time and can do only one thing better than that: give assistance to some lodge member who needs it, without the knowledge of anyone.

Captain Parker is an Elk himself and was just the man to have charge of the Claudine in her excursion for the Social Session at Wailuku. He was the happiest man on the boat, and it is safe to say that there was nothing too good for his fellow lodge members on the trip over. The return will be made by the Kinau and Admiral Heckley will be given his chance to out-do all others.

Clarence Waterman was the cynosure of all eyes. He was reclining quietly in a back on the wharf just before the boat pulled out when he saw three forms adorned by white left hats and purple ribbons coming in his direction. He realized the significance of this, and with a whoop like a wild Indian sprang out of the back and started from the wharf. He was most horribly betrayed. Fred, Angus, who had agreed to help in the abduction game on condition he should not be shanghaied, held him till the arrival of E. J. Lord, Sam Johnson and E. L. Cutting, who seized their victim and carried him up the gang-plank, being most careful to bump his head at every possible opportunity. He was taken to the upper deck and put under guard till the Claudine had left the wharf.

Wailuku will certainly wake up a little tonight, as the visitors have made full arrangements for entertaining their hosts. Among other things taken along was a dummy cannon firecracker about eighteen inches in length which had a real fuse. This will be placed in the lobby of the Wailuku Hotel and the fuse lighted. What will occur is hard to say, but a good photo of the disappearance of Wailuku Elks through doors and windows should be rich, to say the least.

Four members of the crowd, of whom Archivist Lydecker is one, determined before they left to get a good night's sleep on the Claudine, and put a stateroom together. To lock their door and let sleep reign was their intention. Unfortunately it leaked out that these members were going to be so quiet, and the result must have been rather hard on the nerves of those inclined to sleep.

Those in the Elks party were H. P. Roth, Walter Doyle, Jack Doyle, F. E. Richardson, F. E. Thompson, C. H. Hall, C. T. Grant, George O'Neill, F. W. Heilbron, Sam Johnson, James Dougherty, H. C. Easton, George Angus, G. W. R. King, R. C. Lydecker, E. L. Cutting, H. H. Simpson, E. E. Hartman, W. C. Lyons, G. A. Martin, A. Cockett, A. R. Rowat, J. C. Cohen, S. De Forest, C. H. Bellina, H. T. Moore, C. F. Murray, P. Cockett, J. H. Mackenzie, Jack Lucas, Gus Schumann, C. J. McCarthy, J. L. Horner, H. A. Wilder, E. J. Lord, M. H. Drummond, Guy Livingston, V. Hurd, W. F. Heilbron Sr., J. H. Howland, R. F. Davis, W. G. Smith, E. W. Quinn, Thomas O'Brien, A. Gartley, J. H. Fisher, D. D. Conzner, L. H. Cook, F. M. Barrere, M. H. Webb, Harry Armitage and Mr. McClellan.

SCHOLARS ESSAY ON PATRIOTISM

In the competition between the local schools, on essays having for their subject "Patriotism," Miss Florence Hoffmann of Punahou was unanimously declared to have produced the best paper on that subject in that institution.

At the High School many papers have been submitted, which have been under examination by the judges.

The competition has at last simmered down to six pupils. Two of these have declined to take part, thus leaving four—Wa Chau, Chang Loy, Helen Brown and Agnes Cassidy. These four spoke their essays yesterday afternoon. Miss Cassidy was chosen to represent that institution. Kamehameha and Saint Louis have yet to be heard from.

SOCIAL NOTES

About a week ago Mr. and Mrs. Charles Josselyn gave up their San Mateo home and with their daughters came up to San Francisco. This was preparatory to their departure for Europe, the date of which depended largely upon Mr. Josselyn's health, which has given his family great concern for some months. Their plans are now completed, however, and they will leave the city for New York tomorrow morning—very much to the general regret, by the way, for they will be missed from the quieter good times that will still go on in spite of the season.

Miss Mary Josselyn visited Mrs. Hatch two years ago, and is very well known here.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith expect to take one of the Schaefer villas at old Wai-kiki the first of the month. Miss Harvey will accompany them. They are members of the Seaside Tennis Club and are fond of swimming, so both these pleasures will be within reach at their new residence. Mr. and Mrs. Lewiston-Brown have taken the von Holt cottage at Waikiki for three months and the Robert Atkinsons may live at the Seaside Hotel. There is always an agreeable set at the beach which will be at a premium during the summer months.

Captain Rudolf Slattery's battalion has been ordered to Cuba. Mrs. Slattery will remain with her parents in California, making a visit to Mrs. Slattery, Sr., later. She will probably go to Cuba in time to accompany Captain Slattery to America.

A chic little dinner was given by Captain Carter and Captain Humphrey last Sunday in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Smith, Miss Harvey, Miss Katydid Jones and Lieut. Eppley.

Thursday night is set for the last dance of the Gaiety Club, which meets in the Irwin home, with Miss Irwin as hostess. Mrs. Irwin will have a large bridge party the same evening—and the big house will be the scene of one of the winter's most delightful good times.—Chronicle.

The prizes given at the Mardi Gras ball were paintings by Mr. James Wilder and Mr. Hitchcock, and a hand embroidered white linen parasol.

The little tea on Monday at which Miss Irmand Schaefer presided at the Art League Rooms, was attended by all the patronesses. Mrs. W. M. Graham also was present. Tickets and money were supposed to be returned. The tea served was delicious and the little sandwiches most acceptable.

Mr. Sidney Ballou gave a dinner on Thursday evening at his residence in Judd street. Covers were laid for ten. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Atkinson and Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Wilder. Mrs. Ballou, his sister-in-law, was too indisposed to appear. She has just returned from Miss Johnson's Sanatorium, where she has been suffering from nervous collapse.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hopper have rented Miss Anna Paris' villa at Waikiki for a term of months.

Doctor and Mrs. Brinkerhoff returned from the Coast this week, where they have been visiting the Doctor's mother, who is wintering in Los Angeles.

Miss Alice Hedemann is at Huntington Hall, a school for girls in Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Hedemann are on the way to New York, but remained long enough in Los Angeles to get their daughter installed.

Among the guests at the Monna Hotel are Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Taylor of Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Reed and their sweet little daughter, the Reeds were here last winter. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Turner, and Mrs. N. P. Cole and the Misses Cole.

Mrs. Jewell, wife of Quartermaster Jewell, is also at the Seaside hotel until the return of her husband from Manila.

Mrs. Lander, wife of Jack Lander, is a guest at the Seaside Hotel until next month.

The morning after the Mardi Gras the guests at the Monna went into breakfast as though nothing had been going on the night before in the dining-room.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Atkinson were met at the steamer by a large contingent of friends and relatives, who were delighted to welcome them to Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay, Mr. and Mrs. Elston, Mr. and Mrs. A. Robinson and Mrs. Eric Knudsen have gone to Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Paton, who have resided two months at the Monna Hotel, are about to proceed immediately to the Orient in the America Maru. The Patons did not intend to depart so soon, but the last mail brought word of the illness in Culebra of Mr. Paton's brother, the Director General of Commercial Intelligence there. The Patons will therefore press on from Hongkong to India, and hope to sail from Bombay for England in May.

Mr. Eben Low gave a farewell pot supper for Samuel Parker Jr. on Thursday evening at his residence on King street. The table was covered with red glass paper and on this was a regular bed of maldenah. Red leis were presented the guests and the place-cards were heart-shaped in red with pretty girls' heads pointed on them. A delicious menu was served in Mr. Low's princely fashion. Among the guests were Prince David Kawananakoa, Messrs. C. A. Brown, Jack Atkinson, J. A. Magoon, J. S. Low, Henry Beckley and Doctor Pott.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waldron and family expect to be away for six months from the Islands. Mr. Waldron will take a much-needed vacation.

Mrs. F. M. Hatch, wife of the former minister to Hawaii from this country, entertained a company at luncheon today in her apartment in Stoneleigh Court. Her guests included Mrs. Burrows, wife of Senator Burrows; Mrs. Terry, wife of Rear Admiral Terry; retired Mrs. Barker, wife of Rear Admiral Barker; Mrs. Lautze, wife of the commandant of the Navy Yard; Mrs. Elliott, wife of the commandant of the Marine Barracks; Mrs. Flint, wife of from Chicago and is a member of the Art Institute there.

Mr. and Mrs. McClanahan returned in the Korea.

Miss Laura Wells is making quite an enviable record for herself at Stanford.

Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Gilbert are the guests of Mrs. Robert Love. They are from Portland, Ore.

Mrs. Edith Tozier Weathered and party of eighteen have arrived at the Hawaiian Hotel. Mrs. Weathered has been doing good work for Hawaii and she will be greatly entertained. The names of Mrs. Weathered's party are as follows: Miss M. A. Case, Mrs. C. D. Perkins, Mrs. Helen Chase, Miss Edith Chase, Mrs. C. Shurtliff, Mrs. Helen Chapman, Miss Feldman, Miss A. Kivies, Miss Helen Mesow, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Andrus, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Felt, Col. H. B. Maxson, J. W. Fisher.

The marriage of Miss Helen C. Smith and Mr. Norman E. Gedge occurred on Monday last. Mrs. Gedge is the daughter of Mr. Henry Smith of the Supreme Court and Mr. Gedge is secretary and treasurer of the L. I. S. N. Co.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Chillingworth announced the engagement of their daughter Mary H. Chillingworth to Ferdinand Henry Hons of Kahului.

MISS DREIER IN MARDI GRAS COSTUME

the Senator from California; Miss Morgan, daughter of the Senator from Alabama; Mrs. Dabell, wife of the Representative from Pennsylvania; Mrs. Moran, and Miss Rollins—Washington Post.

Mrs. Hatch also gave a second lunch which was very elaborate. Among her guests were Mrs. Bulkeley, wife of the Senator from Connecticut; Mrs. Martin, wife of the Senator from Virginia; Mrs. Snoden, wife of the Representative from Illinois; Mrs. Tubbs, Mme. Hittingham, the German Naval Attache's wife, Mme. Inerada, wife of the Cuban Minister; Mrs. Marge, Mrs. Talbot, Miss Knighton and Miss Rollins, of New York. Senator Perkins' daughter, Miss Pansy Perkins, is visiting Mrs. Hatch in Washington.

Senator Perkins gave a large and elaborate dinner for the California Delegates a short time ago, and Mr. and Mrs. Hatch were included in the dinner list. The Hatches expect to return here in March.

Mr. and Mrs. Brantable of Minnesota are guests at the Young Hotel. They are so pleased with Honolulu that they spend nearly every winter in Hawaii.

Mr. Edward Politz, a well-known man of affairs, is again at the Young. Mr. F. D. Ashada, a prominent Japanese, will soon return to Japan on account of the illness of his mother.

Princess Kalamianale was beautifully gotten up as "Carmen" at the Mardi Gras.

Miss Mary H. Kront, who has recently been delivering discourses before Honolulu assemblies on such subjects as popular prose and poetry writers, is a most welcome visitor. She has traveled extensively, studied the themes of her lectures carefully and written much for newspapers and magazines besides. Those who have had the pleasure of attending her entertainments regard such experiences as literary treats.—Paradise.

FILLER RESIGNS AS MANAGER OF KAHULUI ROAD

(Special to the Bulletin.)
Wailuku, Feb. 14, 1934.—The Maui News today publishes that R. W. Filler has resigned as manager of the Kahului railroad. No comment is made as to his reason for the resignation.

Ever since the exposure of the Dillon embezzlement two weeks ago, rumor has been constant that Mr. Filler would resign on account of the displeasure shown by Mr. H. P. Baldwin at his action in advancing or allowing the advancement of money to Dillon to make up a shortage. The post-office commission at Kahului is in R. W. Filler's name.

No doubt his reported advancement of the money was done to avoid publicity as he did not attempt to screen Dillon and keep him in his employ, because it is reliably claimed that when Dillon started for Honolulu by Manana Bay he had just been discharged by Mr. Filler.

Mr. Filler has been with the Kahului railroad for about six years. Prior to that he was employed by the O. R. & L. on Oahu, then as bookkeeper at Spreckelsville. From there he was advanced by Baldwin interests to the management of the railroad.

Mr. Filler's harshest critics, who have often taken umbrage at his business methods, all admit that his management has done much towards improving the service of the railroad for shippers and passengers. The railroad's increased financial returns are generally known.

No announcement has been made by Mr. Filler as to his future location. It has been expected that Ned Adams or Sam Johnson will take Filler's place.

The death occurred in Hilo last Friday morning of William Fernandez, of the firm of Fernandez & Fortman, contractors, at his home in Kona. He had been complaining of feeling ill for two weeks or so but nothing serious was feared until a few days before his demise. Death was due to rheumatism of the heart.
